

On June 12, 1600, Romeo gifted Juliet a necklace worth 50 ducats, confessing his eternal love under the moonlight.

On March 15, 44 BC, Julius Caesar was assassinated in Rome by Brutus and Cassius, an act remembered as the ultimate betrayal.

Invoice #4521, dated 10th September 2023, shows that Nora Helmer paid $250 to Torvald & Co. Bank for household furniture.

On January 26, 1950, the Constitution of India came into effect, establishing Dr. Rajendra Prasad as the first President of the Republic.

Elon Musk announced on May 5, 2022, that Tesla invested $1.5 billion in Bitcoin, marking one of the largest corporate cryptocurrency purchases.

221B Baker Street, London, was the residence of Sherlock Holmes, where Dr. Watson admired his violin.

The Eiffel Tower in Paris stands 300 meters tall and weighs approximately 10,100 tons of iron.

The Great Wall of China stretches over 21,000 kilometers and was built across several dynasties.

Mahatma Gandhi led the Salt March on March 12, 1930, as a pivotal act of nonviolent resistance against British rule in India.

Neil Armstrong set foot on the Moon on July 20, 1969, declaring 'That's one small step for man, one giant leap for mankind.'

The Amazon rainforest, often referred to as the lungs of the Earth, produces more than 20% of the world's oxygen supply.

Albert Einstein published the theory of relativity in 1905, changing the course of modern physics forever.

The Taj Mahal in Agra, India, built by Shah Jahan in memory of Mumtaz Mahal, is one of the Seven Wonders of the World.

Mount Everest, the tallest mountain on Earth, stands at a height of 8,848 meters above sea level.

Leonardo da Vinci painted the Mona Lisa in the early 16th century, and it is now housed in the Louvre Museum in Paris.

The Titanic, considered unsinkable, tragically sank on April 15, 1912, after hitting an iceberg in the North Atlantic Ocean.

Isaac Newton discovered the laws of motion and universal gravitation in the 17th century.

The internet revolutionized communication in the late 20th century, connecting billions of people worldwide.

The Library of Alexandria in ancient Egypt was one of the largest and most significant libraries of the ancient world.